PROLOGUE

The college teachers of Sindh have always remained proud of their liberal and enlightened thinking, clear-cut ideas about rights and duties-- a mindset to serve not only their own community but down-trodden people of this province also. These ideals are supplemented by their history of untiring struggle and guided by unity among rank and file of the SPLA. Sometimes, the symbol of unity was called SLA (Sindh Lecturers' Association) and at other times it culminated to the status of SPLA (Sindh Professors' & Lecturers' Association).

It has a long history of forward looking evolution: Consequent upon dissolution of the "One Unit" lecturers, who were serving in various Government Colleges of Sindh Province, united themselves under the banner of "Sindh Lecturers' Association or SLA". The Constitution of the SLA was framed and adopted on the pattern of former "West Pakistan Lecturers' Association or WPLA". With the passage of time, in 1989 it was felt that the constitution of SLA was, to some extent, rigid and proving to be unfeasible in certain areas. Therefore, the Provincial Executive Council (PEC) constituted a five-member" Constitution Committee", headed by Professor Liaquat Aziz Solangi. After due deliberations and approval of the PEC, the proposed amendments were presented in the Convention, held on 9th November 1990 at Muslim Science College, Hyderabad. Following a heated debate, the amendments were approved, including the amendment, which renamed "SLA" as "SPLA" i.e. Sindh Professors' & Lecturers' Association. Hereinafter it shall be called, the First Amendment.

In 1996, the PEC of SPLA considered it expedient to review certain articles of the Constitution in order to meet contemporary requirements.

Therefore, a seven-member Constitution Committee, under the chairmanship of Professor Liaquat Aziz, was formed. The amendments as proposed by the Committee were presented before the SPLA Convention, dated 20th November 1996 held at Muslim Science College Hyderabad. The amendments were adopted with the majority vote. Thus, the Second Amendment came into effect.

Once again, on the initiative of various Units, certain amendments were made in the Constitution in the Annual Convention of SPLA, held on 30th day of October, 2001 at Muslim Science College Hyderabad. Though minor in substance, but it was Third Amendment in the document.

During the tumultuous years of SPLA's history, the PEC constituted a seven-member Committee, headed by Prof. Lal Muhammad Solangi, on December 4, 2003. The Committee proposed drastic changes and put forward to the SPLA Convention held on November 30, 2004 at Muslim Science College Hyderabad. The amendments were approved with majority vote and were incorporated into the statute book as Fourth Amendment.

The PEC, finding certain lacunae and loopholes in the basic document of the Association, formed a seven-member Amendment Committee under the chairmanship of Professor Muhammad Siddique Unar (the Scribe) in its first meeting, dated February 2nd 2011; held at D.J Science , Karachi. Other members of the committee were: Prof. Muhamarram Ali Kalhoro, Prof.Ghulam Asghar Shah, Prof. Asif Zaidi, Prof.Iftekhar M.Azami. Prof. Muhammad Yaqoob Chandio Mr. Tarique Mansoor Qureshi. The Committee revisited the Constitution thoroughly, deliberated upon it minutely and tried to settle, even, minor points of dispute, if any, in the book. Following thorough discussions, constructive debates and feed-back from the members/ office bearers, the draft of the amendments was finalized and presented in the SPLA convention held on 18th December, 2012 at Muslim Science College Hyderabad. The Convention approved and adopted proposed changes- including those proposed during the session also- certain amendments, additions, deletions, corrections or insertions in the Article # I,II, III, IV, V, VII and VIII. These include:

official Monogram, acronym-SPLA, definitions, annual subscription and apportionment thereof, composition of CEC, HPC, REC, DEC, UEC, holding periodic meetings of various forums & quorum thereof, powers of working bodies/ office holders, disciplinary proceedings, bar on formation of any group/association within SPLA, bar on holding same post more than twice consecutively, bar on holding administrative post and elected post concurrently, procedure for amendments, retirement of incumbent office bearer, rectification in composition errors in various clauses/sections, inclusion of membership/ renewal of membership form and delegating authority to rewrite and standardize serial numbers of Articles of the Constitution. Consequent upon approval, the Fifth Amendment has been incorporated in the constitution of the SPLA.

Finally, with the grace of Almighty Allah, unconditional support of the SPLA members, wise guidance of the Amendment Committee, and confidence of the PEC and authorization of the General Convention; it is a great privilege and honor for me--- as Secretary General of this great entity---- in presenting this document of history, for history--- a history of struggle, that is, before honorable members of my mother Association.

My special thanks to Professor Noor Ahmed Janjhi, the newly elected Additional Secretary (Centre) for his technical support (editing, proof reading and publishing) for bringing out this valuable document.

I feel a sense of relief and satisfaction on fulfillment of this solemn obligation and gentleman's commitment.
